JOSE MOURINHO

Good afternoon and welcome back.

Wednesday's defeat at Manchester United was disappointing and we have to look to ourselves for that. Our performance was not good enough in the opening 30 minutes and they edged us in intensity and aggression. Playing games in quick succession presents opportunities to move on from negative results and we are certainly aiming to do that this afternoon.

We need to show spirit and resilience to return to winning ways today, two qualities the team displayed in last Saturday's 3-2 win against Bournemouth. We fully controlled the second half and when we were three goals ahead, I thought we would go on to record a big win, then their goal from a free-kick opened the game up in its final stages. How we ended the match did not worry me as we played fluid football throughout and found lots of space.

I should like to congratulate Heung-Min Son for being named the AFC Asian International Player of the Year for a record third time. In the short period I have been here I have been able to see first-hand what a fantastic player and person he is. Everyone at the Club is happy he has achieved this award.

Today we welcome Burnley, who have consistently proven their quality in the Premier League. We know we are in for a challenging game and we need to concentrate on our own performance.

I look forward to experiencing your incredible support once again. Our aim is to ensure you enjoy your afternoon with us.

"WE NEED TO SHOW SPIRIT AND RESILIENCE TO RETURN TO WINNING WAYS TODAY, TWO QUALITIES THE TEAM DISPLAYED IN LAST SATURDAY'S 3-2 WIN AGAINST BOURNEMOUTH"

DISAPPOINTMENT FOR DELE

Dele Alli believes Wednesday's 2-1 defeat to Manchester United was a 'bit of a wake-up call' for the team.

Coming off the pitch at Old Trafford, the forward-thinking midfielder was bitterly disappointed not to take anything from the game but hopes he and his teammates can learn from what was a difficult night in the north west.

In fine form recently, Dele was once again on the scoresheet for us as he sparked us into life just before the break, volleying home magnificently to level the scores, following Marcus Rashford's early opener for United. However, just four minutes into the second period, we were once again behind as Rashford grabbed his second, slotting home from the penalty spot – a strike we were unable to respond to.

"When you start the game slow and you get punished, sometimes it's hard to pick yourselves up," explained Dele.

"We obviously got ourselves level just before half-time, but we needed to dominate the game from there. Again though, we came out flat and were punished. Maybe it was a bit of arrogance, I don't know. We can't start games like that, and we can't perform like that; we know we were second to every ball.

"I think, maybe it is a bit of a wake-up call. We have started a few games like that and got away with it and won the game. When you play against the top sides though, you get punished. We just have to pick ourselves up from here and learn from this."

BORO IN THE CUP

We have been drawn away to Middlesbrough in the third round of the Emirates FA Cup.

It's an intriguing tie with our former defender Jonathan Woodgate currently Head Coach at the Riverside - assisted by our legendary former striker Robbie Keane. Middlesbrough are currently 20th in the Championship.

Boro are unfamiliar opponents when it comes to the FA Cup, with the two sides having only ever been drawn together three times in the previous 138 stagings of the competition.

Indeed, it has been 53 years since we last crossed swords in the FA Cup, when two goals apiece from Dave Mackay and Frank Saul gave us a 4-0 third round win at White Hart Lane on 22 January, 1966.

Ten years earlier, we beat Middlesbrough 3-1 at home in the fourth round, with Dave Dunmore, Maurice Norman and George Robb all on target.

But our first FA Cup encounter with Boro came back on 4 February, 1905, when we drew 1-1 in a first round tie at Ayresome Park. Alex Glen scored our goal that day and in the replay at the Lane four days later, a Charlie O'Hagan strike was enough to see us through.

Third round ties this season will take place across the weekend of Friday 3 January to Monday 6 January, 2020. Further details regarding the scheduling of the tie, including ticket details, will follow in due course.

SONNY MAKES HISTORY

Heung-Min Son was this week named AFC Asian International Player of the Year for a record third time.

The South Korean international star previously collected the accolade in 2015 and 2017 and has now completed a hat-trick after another fantastic year for Club and country. He won the trophy at Monday's AFC Annual Awards ceremony in Hong Kong.

Sonny scored his 19th Spurs goal of 2019 in our recent 3-2 win at West Ham United. Among his other highlights of the year, he scored the first-ever first team goal inside our new stadium as we beat Crystal Palace on opening night in April and swiftly followed that up with the first European goal there – one of three over two legs in our Champions League quarter-final epic against Manchester City.

A starter in the Champions League Final defeat to Liverpool in Madrid in June, he has scored nine goals in all competitions for us so far this season.

Captain of the South Korea national team, he led his nation to the quarter-finals of the AFC Asian Cup in January and continues to lead them in their bid to qualify for the 2022 FIFA World Cup.

SUPER SUB

As part of an occasional feature, Andy Greeves takes at a look back at a match in which a substitute has made a real impact for us. Today he looks at Jamie O'Hara's role in our second-half comeback against Burnley in a League Cup semi-final tie in 2009.

Having lifted the League Cup in 2008, our defence of the trophy saw us beat Newcastle United, Liverpool and Watford to reach the last four of the competition the following season. The semi-final draw paired us with then-Championship outfit Burnley, while Manchester United faced Derby County in the other two-legged tie.

Prior to the start of our first leg clash with the Clarets at White Hart Lane on 6 January, 2009, Jermain Defoe was paraded before our fans, as his return transfer to the Club from Portsmouth was confirmed. The England striker was unavailable for selection that night, with Manchester United loanee Fraizer Campbell partnering Roman Pavlyuchenko in our forward line. Both frontmen were in fine form in the competition that season, with 'Pav' having scored in each round while he and Campbell both got braces in our 4-2 triumph over Liverpool in round four.

Burnley produced a lively first-half performance in N17 and took the lead after 15 minutes when Chris Eagles crossed for Martin Paterson to finish from close range. The visitors had further chances, including a 23rd-minute header from Robbie Blake that was inches off target while Pavlyuchenko forced a fine save from Clarets goalkeeper Brian Jensen at the other end.

Manager Harry Redknapp described our first-half performance as "poor" and brought Jamie O'Hara on as a substitute for David Bentley as he looked to improve our display in the second period. The midfielder made an instant impact, as his corner two minutes after the break was headed in by Michael Dawson.

Five minutes later, O'Hara got on the scoresheet himself, with a firmly struck volley that squirmed through the grasp of Jensen. We increased our lead on 65 minutes when Pavlyuchenko scored a fine individual goal to keep up his record of scoring in every round of the competition that season. Our fourth of the night arrived three minutes later as Michael Duff put through his own net, trying to defend a well-struck, left-footed free kick from O'Hara.

Having scored a goal and made two assists in our 4-1 victory, O'Hara reflected on the second-half turnaround after the game.

"The gaffer wasn't happy at half-time because it was a disappointing way in which to start the game and the whole first half was pretty poor," he said. "But Harry said that all the fans want to see is a bit of passion, so he told us to go out and show that we're the better side and play with a bit of pride, and that's what we did.

"We've got one foot in the door at Wembley (for the final), although it's going to be a difficult game at Burnley who we saw in the first half can play. But it's such a big game for the Club and we can't let these opportunities slip by. They come round once in a lifetime and, because I missed out on the final last season, I want to be on the pitch at Wembley more than anyone."

Prior to the second leg, then-Burnley manager Owen Coyle compared the task of overcoming the Clarets' deficit and reaching the Wembley final themselves as being similar to "trying to climb Everest and beyond". He would surely have been impressed by his team's efforts as they levelled the aggregate scoreline and forced extra time at Turf Moor with goals from Robbie Blake, Chris McCann and Jay Rodriguez.

It was another 'super sub' who ultimately ensured we got the result we needed in Lancashire to progress to the final. Pavlyuchenko, who replaced Luka Modric after 65 minutes of the second leg, scored with just two minutes of extra time remaining. Jermain Defoe added a second just moments later, as we were beaten 3-2 on the night but won the tie 6-4 on aggregate.

O'Hara, who made 56 appearances and scored seven goals for us between 2007 and 2009, came on as a substitute for Pavlyuchenko in our League Cup Final against Manchester United on 1 March, 2009. He subsequently missed in the shootout as we lost 4-1 on penalties after a goalless draw after extra time.

HOME
THIS CHRISTMAS

The last time we welcomed today's opponents Burnley to London for a Premier League meeting was a year ago this month, when a late Christian Eriksen strike proved to be the difference between the two sides. But one face in particular was missing from that game – that being Eric Dier.

The England international had been preparing for the game in the usual manner in the week leading up to the clash with the Clarets but, just days before kick-off, he was forced to pull out of the squad after he was diagnosed with appendicitis.

It was an illness that sparked a series of setbacks for the 25-year-old for much of the campaign that followed. Prior to that Burnley game, he had only missed 15 games for us in the last three seasons; this was a man not used to time on the sidelines.

The bout of appendicitis might have only kept Eric out of action for a few weeks, until the start of January this year but, by the end of that month, he was laid low again as a tonsil infection took hold. He made his comeback in our 1-0 Champions League win over Borussia Dortmund in the March yet, on international duty later that month, more frustration came as he suffered a hip injury in England's 5-0 triumph over the Czech Republic.

"PLAYING REGULARLY IS KEY FOR EVERYTHING IN YOUR DEVELOPMENT AS A FOOTBALLER. SO NOW, IN FRONT OF ME, I'M JUST HOPING THAT I WILL CONTINUE TO GET OPPORTUNITIES AND CONTINUE TO IMPROVE"

He would recover for the end of the season run in, playing in our last three Premier League games, even scoring in the final day 2-2 draw with Everton before coming on as a second-half substitute in June's Champions League Final. Eric then endured a stuttering start to the current season, starting just two of our opening 14 games but since the start of November, he has been almost ever-present for us, lining up in all but two of our games.

And, reflecting on what has been a testing year to say the least, the former Sporting Lisbon player admits he's delighted to be back fit and getting minutes on the pitch as he looks to kick on and continue to develop his game.

"It's great to be back and playing regularly," he smiled. "It's obviously very difficult to push on and get to where you want to in the game if you are not on the pitch.

"It gives you confidence. It's a bit of repetition. The more and more games you play in a row, consistently, the better you feel physically and the more I feel my rhythm is where it should be.

"From there, you can push on, develop, get better each game. You then have your previous games in your recent memory that you can look back on and improve from, which can be difficult if you are not playing regularly because your last game may have been four or five weeks ago, for example. When that happens, it is difficult to take things from that match and then go and put them into practice in an upcoming game.

"And I think you have to be self-reflective on your performances. At this level, we have to try to improve every area that the manager and his coaching staff want you to work on and be able to just reflect on yourself in an honest and realistic way.

"Playing regularly is key for everything in your development as a footballer. So now, in front of me, I'm just hoping that I will continue to get opportunities and continue to improve."

Eric described his period on the sidelines last season as the most difficult of his career while, in contrast, our start this season has perhaps been one of the toughest moments for the Club in its recent history.

Having secured Champions League football in each of the last four seasons via a place in the Premier League's top four, we struggled at the start of the campaign and found ourselves sitting 14th in the table with 12 games of the season having already been played.

"A NEW MANAGER WITH A NEW COACHING STAFF HAS COME IN. I THINK WITH THAT COMES A NEW STIMULUS, NEW IDEAS, NEW WAYS OF DOING THINGS WHICH ARE ALWAYS GOOD FOR THE MIND AND BODY"

Following the subsequent departure of Mauricio Pochettino and the appointment of Jose Mourinho as Head Coach, we have moved up into the top half of the table having won two of our three league games under the new man and also sealed our progression to the Champions League knockout stages with a game to spare. It's been a dramatic change, but Eric admits the team can now just look forward and try to push on as far as possible.

"I think you can go through difficult situations in any walk of life – ours being football - and that is on both a personal and collective level at times," he reflected on our start of to season. "You can learn from every situation and, in the future, try to take those things and improve on them. For example, if I was to be ill or injured again, I know there would be things that I would do differently next time.

"Obviously, things have changed at the Club recently. A new manager with a new coaching staff has come in. I think with that comes a new stimulus, new ideas, new ways of doing things which are always good for the mind and body. Playing at this level and this age as well, where most of us are in our mid-20s now, we are really looking to establish ourselves and push on to get to the highest possible level.

"We are enjoying working with new methods and new people, so we can learn from this period and this change of manager. I'm sure it won't be the last time it happens in my career, so I will personally try to learn from this situation and take that forward."

And that continues today with the visit of Burnley. A win is the aim for the team, to put three more points on the board as we look to respond to the midweek defeat to Manchester United. But Eric knows how tough that task is today against a very disciplined Clarets side.

Having not kept a clean sheet in any of Jose Mourinho's first four games in charge, the England man is hoping we can keep it tight defensively but, first a foremost, it is victory that is the priority.

"First of all, the best feeling in football is simply winning – that is the most important thing – and then, after that, it's the way in which you win," our number 15 explained. "Of course, we are not happy with the way in which we have closed out the games against West Ham and Bournemouth. We made it a lot more difficult than it had to be, but we got the win in both of those matches.

"Burnley are well organised team, with a very good manager and players. Physically they are strong in all areas and have become very stable in the Premier League over recent years and always give you a difficult game. You have to be mentally at your very best and ready for everything because they give it all in every game."

Previewing this afternoon's Premier League meeting with Burnley, looking at the form guide, previous encounters and a whole host of vital statistics…

DID YOU KNOW?

We have won seven of our last eight home games against Burnley in all competitions, drawing the other match 1-1 in August, 2017.

This clash on April Fool's Day was no joke for the home side as we registered our first PL win at Turf Moor thanks to second half goals from Eric Dier and Heung-Min Son.
2017
Harry Kane hit a hat-trick at Turf Moor two years ago this month, opening the scoring from the penalty spot before adding a second-half double as we won 3-0.
2018
We needed a last-gasp Christian Eriksen strike to clinch this fixture last season at Wembley, the Dane finally piercing Burnley's resistance with the only goal of the game.
2009
An incredible four-goal haul from Robbie Keane helped us to a 5-0 win in our first-ever PL meeting. Jermaine Jenas was also on target at the Lane.
2014
We met in N17 this month five years ago and edged to a 2-1 victory. Harry Kane gave us the lead, Ashley Barnes responded for the Clarets before Erik Lamela's winner.

PREVIOUS MEETINGS

v Burnley

We've played Burnley on 10 previous occasions in the Premier League, winning six and losing just twice. Let's take a look at some of our previous victories…

SONNY'S DELIGHT

Heung-Min Son has been directly involved in 13 goals in his 14 appearances at Tottenham Hotspur Stadium – eight goals, five assists.

NEVER GOALLESS

Our last 0-0 draw in the PL came in September, 2017 – a run of 86 matches. Only Ipswich (87) and Manchester United (114) have gone longer.

CAPITAL WOES

Burnley have lost 21 of their 28 Premier League games in London, including seven of their last eight since beating West Ham in March last year.

TEAM FORM

Spurs:	Burnley:

We suffered our first defeat under Jose Mourinho against Manchester United on Wednesday, our first loss in six Premier League games. But our home form continues to improve since losing to Newcastle United here in August, with three wins and two draws from our previous five here in the division. We haven't kept a clean sheet for 10 league games however.

It's been a mixed bag of results for Sean Dyche's side recently. After beating Everton at home at the start of October, they lost at Leicester and Sheffield United and on home soil to Chelsea, but recovered to register fine 3-0 wins over West Ham United and Watford. However, two home defeats in four days against Crystal Palace and Manchester City have seen them slip down the table.

He was named Clarets Young Player of the Year for 2018, and made his Premier League debut on the final day of the 2017/18 season. TRUE COLOURS

We all have our favourites when it comes to past Spurs kits and, sometimes, they can evoke memories of specific games, moments and the players who wore them. Continuing our series for the 2019/20 season, Billy Shaw chats to our players – past and present – to find out what comes into their minds when they look back at a selection of our shirts from seasons gone by. Today, we speak to former defender Pascal Chimbonda, who had two spells in our colours between 2006 and 2009 and now plays for our Legends team…

SPURS AWAY KIT, 2006/07

Our light blue away shirt of 2006/07 was in fact the first Spurs top Pascal ever put on after joining us from Wigan in August, 2006.

Prior to playing in it on his debut, he wore it in front of the cameras at his official unveiling as a Spurs player at our old training base in Chigwell, joining then-manager Martin Jol and fellow new signing Mido – who wore the home strip – for a specially-arranged photo call to mark the duo's arrival.

As for his memories of matches in this kit, which featured navy blue shorts alongside the much brighter shirts and socks, Pascal said: "This colour is difficult to find a lot of memories of because we didn't play with this one a lot.

"I guess the main thing that comes to mind is my goal at Fulham, where I scored in the last couple of minutes to get us a point (1-1 draw). That and my first game for Spurs, away at Manchester United at the start of the season in 2006."

We lost by a goal to nil at Old Trafford, but had slightly better fortunes in the game Pascal mentions at Craven Cottage. It was January, 2007, and we'd gone a goal down towards the end of the game after Vincenzo Montella scored a penalty, but Pascal popped up two minutes from time to equalise against the hosts, who had earlier gone down to 10 men after Heidar Helguson was shown a second yellow card.

SPURS HOME KIT, 2009/10

From Pascal's first Spurs kit to his last… he wore this during his final appearances for us during the pre-season period in 2009, shortly before completing a move to Blackburn Rovers.

Featuring a unique twist on our traditional Lilywhite shirt thanks to yellow detailing over the shoulders and down the sides of the body, our 2009/10 home kit yielded plenty of memorable moments throughout its lifespan.

But it's one of our summer outings soon after the kit was released that sticks in Pascal's mind.

"It's the Barcelona match at Wembley in pre-season!" he smiled after being shown a picture of the garment in question. "Yes, it was the Wembley Cup and we drew 1-1.

"I remember because we didn't have any defenders! Most of the regular guys at centre-back didn't play so Tom Huddlestone played there. Jake Livermore, I think, scored for us – I remember celebrating with him during that game, so it must have been him!"

A matter of weeks after that match, Pascal's second stint at the Club came to an end, but he was back at White Hart Lane with Blackburn in March, 2010, when we wore this kit against him in our 3-1 victory.

SPURS THIRD KIT, 2007/08

Pascal winced as he looked at our all-yellow third strip from 2007/08 – his second season with us.

"Oh no! I remember playing in the game where we got beaten by Birmingham just after we won the League Cup against Chelsea," he said, clearly pained by the memory.

It was in fact a week after our famous triumph at Wembley when we travelled to St Andrew's in the Premier League. Pascal played the full game as Mikael Forssell helped himself to a hat-trick for the home side, while Seb Larsson also added his name to the scoresheet. Jermaine Jenas struck a consolation for us late on as we slumped to a 4-1 defeat.

This was one of four outfield kits used during the course of the 2007/08 campaign as we celebrated the Club's 125th anniversary. Wording to that effect was displayed below the cockerel on each of the jerseys.

"I guess this shirt makes me think of that one bad game, but it was still a good period for us because we won the cup," said Pascal. "I also remember that this kit was quite big on me – a bit like now when I play in the Legends team. I needed a smaller size!"

"My first game back at the Club and an assist coming off the bench at Bolton!" smiled Pascal as he looked at a picture of our black third shirt of 2008/09, which featured two white flashes across the right shoulder along with gold detailing.

"I came back in the January (2009) and then a few days later we went to Bolton – I came on for Vedran (Corluka). It was unfortunate that we lost right at the end."

Following a six-month spell at Sunderland, Pascal did indeed make his second 'debut' in what turned out to be a 3-2 defeat to Bolton.

The hosts surged into a two-goal lead but we pegged them back to 2-2 thanks to a brace from Darren Bent. Pascal set up the first one but as the clock ticked down, Bolton snatched all three points when Kevin Davies headed in a corner from our current Under-18s Coach, Matt Taylor.

That was one of five competitive appearances Pascal made for us during the second half of the 2008/09 season before he was on the move again to Blackburn.

Our kit manufacturers at the time released this particular apparel as a tribute to the Puma King football boots.

CLUB LIGHTS UP LONDON FOR RAINBOW LACES

Stonewall

We will once again be illuminating our iconic new stadium in rainbow colours this afternoon as a statement of support for the LGBTQ+ community during Stonewall's Rainbow Laces campaign.

The stadium was first lit up in rainbow colours on Thursday evening, when representatives of the Club, our LGBTQ+ Supporters' Association – Proud Lilywhites – Stonewall, the Premier League, the FA and further organisations that promote diversity and inclusion within the game gathered on the rooftop of the Tottenham Experience to witness the illumination.

London's newest landmark will also be illuminated during today's game against Burnley, which we are dedicating to Rainbow Laces. Tottenham Hotspur Women will also be supporting the Rainbow Laces campaign in their game against Brighton at The Hive tomorrow.

The campaign aims to 'make sport everyone's game', with the focus on creating LGBTQ+ inclusive environments within football and other sports. Premier League clubs are activating around home matches being played up and down the country this week.

Donna-Maria Cullen, Executive Director, said: "Diversity and inclusion is at the heart of everything we do as a Club and our iconic new stadium gives us a fantastic opportunity to go even further in demonstrating our support for the LGBTQ+ community.

"At night, our stadium becomes a light sculpture that is seen across London – our rainbow illumination is a powerful statement as to the part football can play in delivering such an important message: this is everyone's game and all are welcome here regardless of race, religion, disability, gender identity or sexual orientation."

The Club was one of the first to establish a LGBTQ+ Supporters' Association, with the Proud Lilywhites launched in February 2014.

Since then, Proud Lilywhites has worked closely with the Club on a range of initiatives to engage our LGBTQ+ fanbase, our staff and partners.

The group's signature flag is regularly seen at home matches, LGBTQ+ awareness training has been held for Club staff and matchday stewards, and football sessions for its members have been delivered by the Tottenham Hotspur Foundation.

Proud Lilywhites membership has grown to over 400 and the group was awarded the 2018 Fans for Diversity Award by the Football Supporters' Federation.

On Thursday, the Proud Lilywhites unveiled its new look pin badge that now incorporates the black and trans pride flags to reflect the truly diverse nature of the Club's support.

Chris Paouros, Co-Chair of Proud Lilywhites, said: "We've seen first-hand over these past five years that our Club is a bastion of inclusion and diversity. By illuminating the stadium, we are making a statement that embodies this."

The group's Co-Chair, Simon Gray, added: "To be able to light up our stadium in rainbow colours is a huge statement. We have the best stadium in the world and this will be seen across London. As a fan group, that makes us extremely proud, as it should for every Spurs fan."

Within the Club's local community, the Tottenham Hotspur Foundation has employed an LGBTQ+ Co-Ordinator to deliver youth groups, inclusive sports sessions and educational activities within schools to promote diversity and inclusion.

Team captain Harry Kane wore a rainbow coloured armband against Manchester United on Wednesday night and the skipper will do so again this afternoon against Burnley, with our Women's team captain wearing the armband in our fixture with Brighton tomorrow.

Meanwhile, at today's match, the Club's official craft beer supplier to Tottenham Hotspur Stadium, Beavertown, will be selling a special edition brew of its popular Gamma Ray product, in association with the Proud Lilywhites. 'Gamma Ray, Proud Lilywhites Limited Edition' was first produced in celebration of London Pride 2019, which the Club supported in July.

Chay Cooper scores our fourth to round off a fine team performance against Liverpool

FA YOUTH CUP: SPURS 4-2 LIVERPOOL

Our Under-18s produced a superb performance to dump holders Liverpool out in the third round of the FA Youth Cup on Monday night.

On the front foot at every opportunity, we deservedly went ahead at Stevenage's Lamex Stadium when striker Troy Parrott won and converted two penalties in 14 first-half minutes, both following fouls by goalkeeper Harvey Davies, only for Conor Bradley to pull one back for the visitors shortly before the break. Layton Stewart curled home to bring the visitors – second in the northern section of the Under-18 Premier League – back level on 63 minutes but we maintained our focus and stunned the Reds with two goals in as many minutes to effectively end the tie at 4-2.

First, Max Robson made amends for a couple of spurned opportunities earlier in the game when he powered home J'Neil Bennett's cross, with substitute Chay Cooper making sure on the break 13 minutes from time.

Spurs: Lo-Tutala, Lusala, Cirkin, White, Fagan-Walcott, Binks, Whittaker (Cooper 70), Cesay (Pedder 70), Parrott (c), Robson (Asante 86), Bennett. Substitutes (not used): Kurylowicz, Muir, Mundle, Santiago.

Liverpool: Davies, Bradley, Beck, Hoever, Savage, Clarkson (Morton 83), Hill, Cain, Stewart (Balagizi 80), O'Rourke (c) (Bearne 66), Norris.

TAYLOR PRAISES PLAYERS AFTER CUP PERFORMANCE

Under-18s Coach Matt Taylor was pleased with the way our youngsters recovered from conceding an equaliser to go on and beat Liverpool in the FA Youth Cup on Monday.

Parrott's brace of penalties was cancelled out, but Robson and Cooper bagged a quickfire double to give us a 4-2 victory.

"We spoke at half-time (at 2-1 up) about expecting a reaction and I thought Liverpool were excellent for the first 20 minutes of the second half, they quite deservedly got their goal but we found a way to win the game," said Matt.

"That was really pleasing for me – at times we stayed in it when we had to, the substitutions worked really well, Chay Cooper came on and got a good goal, Max Robson, from missing a similar chance in the first half, got himself in an area to get on the end of an excellent cross from J'Neil so it's really pleasing that we won. That in itself, against a really strong Liverpool team, was a very good result."

We face a decisive UEFA Youth League fixture away to Bayern Munich on Wednesday (11 December) – and you can watch the action live on BT Sport. Kick-off at the FC Bayern Campus is at 3pm UK time.

Following our 1-0 home win over Olympiacos last month, we need to better Crvena zvezda's matchday six result against the Greek side in Germany to jump into second place and progress to the play-off round in the New Year.

FIVE THINGS TO KNOW ABOUT... JEREMY KYEZU

1. London-born left-back Jeremy Kyezu first started training with us in the Under-11s and went full-time with our Under-18s as a first-year scholar this summer. Born on 19 August, 2003, he used to play in midfield but broke his shinbone two seasons ago and has since transitioned to a full-back role.

2. Jeremy has an identical twin brother, Jordan, who plays as a right-back for Ebbsfleet United Under-18s: "It's very interesting having an identical twin!" said Jeremy. "It was kind of annoying sometimes as kids when teachers would get us mixed up. It can be a bit confusing, I think Michael and Matthew Craig in our Under-18s can relate to that – I often joke about it with them." Jeremy's cousin Mikael Ndjoli plays for Gillingham on loan from Bournemouth and featured against our Development Squad in the Leasing.com Trophy recently.

3. Jeremy owns a replica LA Lakers basketball shirt – although that's not the family team: "My mum used to play college basketball. She's Canadian and she followed the Toronto Raptors," he explained. Consequently, Jeremy names NBA 2K20 among his top three favourite video games along with FIFA and Call of Duty.

4. Among the first team players Jeremy looks up to are Lucas Moura, Danny Rose, Ben Davies and Ryan Sessegnon: "Lucas is very direct, Danny is very tough, runs in behind a lot and can defend well, Ben is also a brilliant defender and Ryan is very good going forward," he said. Away from the Premier League, Jeremy keeps tabs on the Bundesliga and is a fan of Bayern Munich wing-back Alphonso Davies. He continued: "I respect his story in terms of where he came from. He grew up in Canada and his family background was unstable but he worked his way up to fight and provide for them."

5. Representing Barnet in athletics at district level when he was younger, Jeremy enjoyed success in the 1,500m class. In school he enjoyed media studies and drama.

Kit Graham stoops to head home our equaliser at Birmingham

HONOURS EVEN AT BIRMINGHAM

Kit Graham scored a second half goal to cancel out Abbi Grant's opener for Birmingham City as the points were shared in the Barclays FA Women's Super League clash on Wednesday evening.

We started the match positively at Solihull Moors and should have taken the lead with our early chances, but it was the hosts who went ahead through Grant's header against the run the of play, leaving us chasing the game at the break.

With just over 15 minutes to go, Graham got on the end of a long free-kick delivered in by substitute Gemma Davison to head the ball in at the far post as we got our well-deserved equaliser and our first draw of the season that keeps us seventh in the WSL.

Defender Hannah Godfrey returned to the starting line-up having missed the last two fixtures against Chelsea and Everton with concussion. Coral-Jade Haines, Ashleigh Neville and Rosella Ayane were the other changes made to the side who lost in our last game away to Everton.

We looked fired up in attack in the early stages and Ayane should have given us a lead within two minutes after she intercepted Rebecca Holloway's back-pass, but her effort hit the post, before Graham and Haines squandered chances.

The home side went ahead after 22 minutes when Blues skipper Lucy Staniforth sent a long ball into Grant who headed past Becky Spencer.

Rianna Dean had a golden opportunity to level the scoreline before the break after she dispossessed Harriett Scott but her looping strike went wide of the bottom left corner.

Josie Green was brought on to replace Haines at the interval and Davison came on for Lucy Quinn shortly after with both players having a positive impact on play as we searched for the equaliser.

Within five minutes of being introduced into the game, Davison could have scored after she raced down the left flank and drove into the box, before pulling the trigger, but Holloway was there to block the ball for the hosts.

Ten minutes later, Davison, who looked sharp after returning from injury, set up the equaliser. Her long free-kick towards the back post was met by Graham who headed in past Hannah Hampton to ensure the match ended on level terms.

Birmingham City: Hampton, Scott, Arthur, Williams (Scofield 74), Grant, Jordan, Whipp, Walker, Holloway, Simkin, Staniforth (c). Substitutes (not used): Brooks, Gregory, Jones, Brown, Powell.

Spurs: Spencer, Percival, Schillaci (c), Godfrey, Furness, Haines (Green 45), Graham, Dean, Quinn (Davison 58), Ayane (Wynne 86), Neville. Substitutes (not used): Morgan, Leon, Filbey, Peplow.

JUAN RUES MISSED OPPORTUNITY

Head Coach Juan Amoros felt we deserved more from our midweek visit to Birmingham in the Women's Super League.

Missed chances coupled with the concession of a goal to the hosts against the run of play meant we had to return south with just a point, with Juan left feeling it should have been more following a decent performance from the team at Solihull Moors.

"We are a team that wants to win games and I'm pretty sure we should have won that game tonight," he said, after the final whistle.

Juan Amoros

"We are disappointed but I think that's what makes us the team we are. It's a difficult place to come, midweek, a freezing night and we are still frustrated to only get a point out of it.

"Overall I think it was a positive performance apart from us not taking our chances. In the first seven minutes we hit the post and had two other chances in front of goal, we need to put those away and we've been working on that.

"We wanted to start the game on a positive note and I think we did, we were on top and then suddenly we conceded a goal which came out of nothing, so it is disappointing but at the same time we are new and still learning."

GEMMA DAVISON: RETURNING FROM INJURY FOR CAREER HIGHLIGHT AT NEW STADIUM

It's been a learning curve for Spurs Women after three consecutive defeats in November to league high-flyers Arsenal, Chelsea and Everton and a disappointing away draw to Birmingham on Wednesday, but in the midst of a tough run saw the return of experienced forward Gemma Davison – a huge boost for the team with a jam-packed schedule in December.

Gemma suffered a significant medial ankle ligament injury at the beginning of October but made a swift recovery to return to action in just eight weeks. What spurred her on to a speedy return? It was our historic fixture at Tottenham Hotspur Stadium against one of her former sides, an occasion she thought she would never experience in her career.

"Returning from injury for the north London derby was the main target for me," Gemma confessed. "I just had that in the front of my mind and I desperately wanted to be back for that and be a part of something special. I'm just happy I made the game really. I knew how big the occasion was for us and the Club overall and I really wanted to be part of it and make history.

"I never thought I would play in front of over 38,000 people in a league match. When we played at Stamford Bridge, I never believed in my whole career that I would walk out at a Premier League stadium, look up to the highest stands and it be full. That was the spark for me and then the game at Tottenham Hotspur Stadium was by far one of the best experiences of my career.

"I think credit to every single fan who came. I know that a lot of kids' football teams didn't play that day so they could come to watch us and I think not only was there a big crowd there, but credit to both teams for putting on a great game.

"A lot of people enjoyed the football on show and that's what we want for the women's game. I really do think we performed well for the Club. It's the best stadium I have ever been in, by a mile, and it was an honour to play there and be part of a day I'll never forget."

Gemma arrived at the Club in the summer from Reading and her experience in the WSL from her spells with Arsenal, Liverpool, Chelsea and the Royals, was invaluable to our newly formed Tottenham Hotspur Women.

Following a positive pre-season, which included our first overseas trip to Cadiz in Spain, the 32-year-old started the season well and received plaudits from fans as she impressed against Chelsea and Liverpool.

But injury struck soon after for Gemma, who started playing at the age of 14 with Arsenal Ladies youth team and has won the WSL on four occasions. It was her first significant injury of her career and one that would teach her new lessons in the game.

"I was really disappointed when I got the injury," she explained. "Especially because I felt like I started the first few games of the season well and that I was hitting form. I was really enjoying my football, enjoying being with the team and the environment at a new Club, so I was really gutted to be honest.

"It's mentally been a big challenge too. I think that some people don't realise how hard injured players work and how much they do to get back fit.

"This has probably been the first significant injury I've had in my career and I didn't realise how much you have to do to get yourself strong again, not just your ankle, but your whole body. You learn a lot about yourself and I think I appreciate what injured players go through more now that I've been through it myself.

"It's been a tough process but the most important thing is that I'm back now, motivated and feel ready to go!"

In last weekend's draw in Bucharest, where 36 nations were represented, England were pitted in Group D along with Croatia, Czech Republic and the winners of play-off Path C - one of Scotland, Israel, Norway or Serbia.

All three of the Three Lions' group stage matches will be played at Wembley due to the unique format of the tournament, where 12 cities across Europe will host some of the action.

Ben Davies' Wales are in Group A with Italy, Switzerland and Turkey - they'll play two games in Baku, Azerbaijan, and one in Rome, Italy.

Elsewhere, Toby Alderweireld and Jan Vertonghen's Belgium are in Group B, along with Christian Eriksen's Denmark. Russia and Finland are also in their group.

Hugo Lloris, Tanguy Ndombele and Moussa Sissoko, meanwhile, face a tough task in Group F. They're joined by Germany and Portugal, along with the winners of either play-off Path A or D - that could be anyone from Iceland, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary, Georgia, North Macedonia, Kosovo or Belarus.

Republic of Ireland, for who Troy Parrott made his debut recently, are in play-off Path B along with Slovakia, Bosnia & Herzegovina and Northern Ireland - they'll compete next year for the chance to join Spain, Poland and Sweden in Group E.

BALLBOY CALLUM: "IT'S MADE MY DAY, NO, MY LIFE!"

One minute you are 'just doing your job', the next, Jose Mourinho has given you a high-five and it seems the world knows your name... yet you've still got to revise for a maths exam the next morning!

That was the reality ballboy Callum Hynes, 15, faced after our 4-2 win against Olympiacos in the Champions League recently.

Little did he know in the moment, but Callum played his part in our crucial equalising goal just four minutes into the second half.

Trailing 2-1 to the Greek side at half-time, we needed a quick start to the second half and to get that equaliser as soon as possible.

With the clock at 49.10, Giorgos Masouras tackled Serge Aurier on our right touchline, sliding the ball out of play. In that instant, Lucas Moura took off down the right channel. Callum, using the multi-ball system, threw a ball straight to Serge, who turned and took a quick throw-in to Lucas, now in behind the Olympiacos defence and clear. Lucas raced into the box and cut the ball back for Harry Kane to score to make it 2-2. Jose immediately sought out Callum for a high-five and there was no stopping us from there as goals from Serge and Harry's second saw us home 4-2 and into the last 16.

Reality struck Callum on his way home - as we mentioned, he still had a maths exam at school the next day! "The whole way home I was using a torch in the car to go over my maths revision!" Callum told us. Thankfully, Southend High School for Boys agreed to move his exam to Thursday.

"It's all a bit surreal," said Callum, now into his sixth season as a ballboy and a 'veteran' of the Lane, Wembley and even our League Cup tie at MK Dons. "I was just doing my job and I still can't quite believe what happened.

"I didn't even see the goal! I was busy getting the ball that had come off and then I heard the cheer. I turned around and Harry was celebrating.

"I looked at the replay on the screen and watched exactly what happened. You can see from my smile it was just unbelievable. Jose didn't have to do that. It was really nice of him to come over to me. It's made my day, my life, really! I love Spurs and it was an amazing moment I'll never forget."

And if that wasn't enough, Callum was then invited by Jose into the players' pre-match meal ahead of the Bournemouth game last weekend, where he met all the lads and the coaching staff!

Callum, along with all of our Club ballboys and girls, was selected for the role after showing key attributes when attending a Tottenham Hotspur Player Development Programme, run by our Global Football Development team, who are responsible for identifying, training and developing the group. For your chance to be selected as part of the ballyboy/girl squad, book on to one of our programmes now by visiting tottenhamhotspur.com/football-development

RYAN KICKS OFF NEW KICKS SESSION

Ryan Sessegnon met local young people who are benefitting from the Club's free after-school Kicks programme recently.

The session, delivered by the Tottenham Hotspur Foundation, was the first to take place at Tottenham Community Sports Centre – a new location for Kicks located right on the Club's doorstep, opposite the stadium.

Through programmes like Kicks, the Club is giving youngsters in Tottenham and across north London access to free sports sessions after school and during school holidays.

With the addition of Tottenham Community Sports Centre, the Club now runs Kicks at 10 venues across Haringey and to date has engaged over 8,000 young people in the Borough.

After demonstrating drills and giving the teenagers advice on skills, London-born Ryan heard about their experiences growing up in Tottenham and the challenges faced by youngsters in the area. The group discussed how programmes like Kicks enable them to participate in something they love while meeting new people and making friends.

Ryan also heard from Foundation coaches, many of whom have been through our Kicks programme themselves, about the importance of the Club's community work in Tottenham. Alongside improving participants' football skills, coaches provide a supportive role to help young people build confidence, develop their interpersonal skills and succeed.

Speaking at the new Kicks site, Ryan said: "Football has been a huge part of my life growing up. It was great to meet local kids who share that passion and hear their stories. Through these sessions, the Club is giving them opportunities to play, learn and meet other kids who also love the game."

Richard Allicock, Community Development Manager at the Tottenham Hotspur Foundation, said: "I've been involved with Kicks since the programme started and have seen first-hand the impact it's had in Tottenham, both for young people and the wider community. We're continuing to build on this work as a Club, using the strength of the badge to encourage more youngsters to take part in our programmes."

LOCAL ACHIEVERS RECOGNISED

The Club has been celebrating the achievements of people across our local community over the past year.

Club Ambassadors Ledley King and Gary Mabbutt recently presented awards at two separate events that recognised the contributions of Haringey residents to the community.

On Monday, Ledley attended the seventh Outstanding for All Awards, an annual ceremony hosted by Haringey Council, which was held at our stadium for the first time. The large-scale event celebrates the achievements of students, school staff and teachers in the Borough.

During the ceremony, Ledley presented the Achievement in Sport award to Megan Elliott – a talented young sportswoman and aspiring Olympic fencer. Megan, who participates in several school sports teams, was recently selected to represent England at the International Fencing Championships in Poland.

Alongside a host of other awards – including Teacher of the Year, Overcoming Adversity, Apprentice of the Year and Community Hero – guests enjoyed a variety of performances from some of Haringey's most talented stars. Among the highlights was a musical number from students at The Vale School – a school for children with special educational needs, located just opposite the stadium.

Speaking at the ceremony, Ledley said: "I'm proud to be here surrounded by people that contribute so much to Haringey schools.

"All the nominees were worthy winners and it was great to hear their stories tonight."

Meanwhile, Gary Mabbutt recognised the contributions of the Borough's volunteers, charities and community groups last week at the annual Community Impact Awards, organised by the Tottenham-based charity Bridge Renewal Trust.

Following a brief speech thanking the nominees, Gary presented awards across several categories, including Improving the Lives of Children and Young People, and Voluntary and Community Organisation of the Year. The latter was won by Tottenham Food Hub – an initiative that provides food, clothing and support to some of the most vulnerable people in Haringey.

Gary said: "Having been part of the Club for many years, the achievements of people in our community never cease to impress me.

"I would like to congratulate this latest group of Haringey heroes and encourage them to continue the amazing work they're doing."

What does the name Burnley stir in the memory of club historian John Fennelly? We find out.

1 MAX SEEBURG

Striker Max Seeburg was the first European-born overseas player to represent a professional English club.

Born in Leipzig, he arrived locally at the age of two. Max was playing for Cheshunt when Chelsea spotted his potential, but he failed to make the league side there. He moved to Spurs in 1907, scoring in his first match on a tour to Belgium before quickly making his senior debut at White Hart Lane.

He left us for Leyton the following year, moving on to Burnley in 1910 where he made 17 league appearances. He later played for Grimsby Town and Reading, retiring to run a pub and subsequently returning to his trade as a carpenter.

Max was interned early in the First World War and later became a British citizen.

2 PETER TAYLOR

The main reason I vividly recall our game at Turf Moor on April Fool's Day 1978 was the fact that the reporter sitting next to me in the Press Box had a portable TV in his bag and was secretly watching the Grand National 'live' during the game!

There were few about in those days and it was the first I had seen. Yet it was like a long oblong tube, ideally shaped for his duffle bag, with a tiny mono screen. As Lucius nicked it on the line, there were more eyes on that bag than on the pitch!

It wasn't a great day. I lost my hard-earned at the eighth fence while our promotion hopes were dented by a 2-1 defeat. Peter Taylor opened the scoring for us but Billy Ingham and Peter Noble won it for Burnley.

And to complete the occasion, I was travelling home on a supporters' club coach which broke down at Luton when the electrics failed! Remember that?

3 MARK KENDALL

Goalkeeper Mark Kendall, who played on loan for Burnley in late 1991, was a big man with a big personality who often seemed to be at a loose end in his early days at Tottenham.

The Wales youth international had joined us as an apprentice in 1975 and was living locally. His wife worked in the club's commercial office and that's where you would often find Mark on most afternoons after his return from training at Cheshunt.

And when the staff played our regular seven-a-side games in the ballcourt on a Monday evening, Kendall would insist on playing at centre-forward where his energetic approach left most of us limping! RIP Taff, lovely memories.

4 BILLY COOK

Veteran striker Billy Cook scored a hat-trick when we beat Burnley 8-1 at White Hart Lane in September 1930 having opened the season with a 7-1 home win over Reading the week before. Unfortunately, we then lost our next two games!

Taffy O'Callaghan and Ted Harper both netted twice against the Clarets in that Monday night match with Willie Davies completing our tally. Burnley's prolific goalscorer Louis Page grabbed their reply.

We just missed out on promotion at the end of that season as we finished third in Division Two, three points adrift of West Brom who went up with table-toppers Everton. Burney were eighth and beat us in the return when George Beel scored the only goal.

5 FRANK SAUL

Versatile striker Frank Saul, who scored four goals against Burnley in season 1964/65, was something of a teenage sensation. He reached our reserves at the age of 15 and had just turned 17 when he made his senior debut.

We faced Burnley twice in our opening four games that season. The Clarets went two up at Turf Moor before we pulled it back to 2-2 with Frank on target. He then hit a hat-trick in the return which we won 4-1.

6 PETER BAKER

Right-back Peter Baker missed just one game in our joint league and cup success of season 1960/61. And he scored once in that memorable campaign – in our 4-2 defeat at Burnley less than a week after our title triumph had been confirmed.

Indeed, the Clarets had the upper hand in the league that season by also drawing 4-4 draw at the Lane. Baker's Turf Moor moment was the opening goal – the proverbial 20-yarder after he had advanced unchallenged half the length of the field.

7 JIMMY GREAVES

Throughout his Spurs career the great Jimmy Greaves scored 15 times against Burnley – including a hat-trick against the Clarets in a 7-0 triumph at White Hart Lane in September 1968.

Greaves was an ever-present for us in all competitions that season recording 27 league goals to claim the division's top marksman laurels with another four in the FA Cup and five in the League Cup.

Cliff Jones also scored with two headers against Burnley that day while Martin Chivers and sub Jimmy Robertson completed our tally. Pat Jennings saved a Frank Casper penalty.

It wasn't a great season for either club as we finished sixth in the table with Burnley 14th. And although we were one place above Southampton, they qualified for the Inter-Cities Fairs Cup on the one club per city rule as Arsenal were already there.

8 BOBBY SMITH

Bobby Smith, who played his last Spurs game in a 7-2 defeat at Turf Moor in April 1964, broke a few Burnley hearts at the start of that decade when both sides were highly competitive on the domestic front.

The Clarets were the defending champions when we won the league in 1961 and Smith scored twice against them as we knocked Burnley out of the FA Cup at the semi-final stage at Villa Park. He also netted when we met in the 1962 final.

YOUR SHOUT

This is the place for you, our supporters, to share your greetings, wishes, messages and photos through our matchday programme. If you want something to be included, please email us at programme@tottenhamhotspur.com and we will do our best to feature it.

We were sorry to hear of the passing of the following Spurs supporters:

Ian Coulston, great grandson to Jack Coxford – physiotherapist at Spurs in the 60s, and son to Donald 'Don' Coulston, who was head groundsman at our Cheshunt training ground in the 80s, wife to Teresa for nearly 50 years and father to Claire and Lindsey, lost his 15-year battle against Parkinson's Disease on 23 November, aged 68. He played for Spurs Juniors and professionally for Birmingham City and was later grounds manager at what is now our training ground in Enfield. He will be greatly missed by his family and friends.

Sylvia Ann Evans, who had been a club member for over 20 years, sadly passed away in October at the age of 78. She will be deeply missed by husband Terry and all her family and friends.

Raymond Stanley Hudson, who sadly passed away on 2 November, aged 99. A lifelong Spurs fan through nine decades, his favourite player was Jimmy Greaves and his favourite team was the famous 'Double' side of 1960/61. He maintained his love of Spurs, his family and his sense of humour until the end.

We would like to extend our condolences to their families and friends at this sad time.

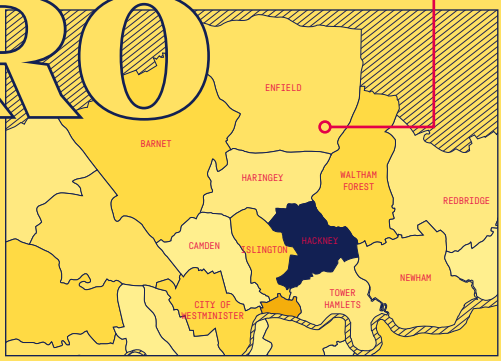
LOCAL HERO

PLAYER NAME:
ARTHUR ROWE
D.O.B: 01.09.06
POSITION: CENTRE-HALF
LEAGUE APPEARANCES: 182
BORN IN: TOTTENHAM



Looking back on players spotted by Spurs playing locally in schools' football – and who went on to star in our first team. John Fennelly details the career of Arthur Rowe

The affection Arthur Rowe retained for Spurs was there for all to see in the documentary 'The Lane' which detailed the story of our famous old stadium in such reverent terms.

Our former player and manager is asked in his later years: What does Spurs mean to you? He takes some moments to answer as his jaw shivers and he ultimately fails to avoid weeping. "A lot," is all he can say at such a poignant moment as a tear rolls down his cheek.

Born in Tottenham on 1 September, 1906, Rowe was a lifelong Spurs supporter. As a schoolboy, he would walk to the ground on a Saturday afternoon to watch us play and continued to follow our fortunes throughout his life.

He played for Tottenham and London Schools and joined us as an amateur in 1923. The centre-half was sent to our nursery clubs Cheshunt and Northfleet United to learn his craft, returning to the club in May 1929 to sign professional.

A cultured performer who was a fine footballer, Rowe's calm approach to the game was a big influence on our side. He always preferred to play his way out of defence as opposed to welly the ball upfield which was the accepted practice at the time.

As he would show throughout his footballing life, on and off the field, he was perpetually far ahead of his time.

He made his debut against today's opponents Burnley at White Hart Lane in October 1931 – a Division Two game that ended one apiece. He did well enough to immediately become a regular starter in Percy Smith's side.

BOXING DAY TRAVEL

Big Green Coach, provider of the official Regional Coach network, will be offering expanded coach services to help get fans to and from our Boxing Day fixture against Brighton & Hove Albion.

There will be minimal mainline train services across the UK on Boxing Day including NO National Rail or London Overground services running through White Hart Lane, Northumberland Park and Tottenham Hale on the day.

Therefore a further 66 coach pick-up locations have been added to the existing 31 to expand the network to 97, with seats priced from £13 for a return journey.

And there was success the following season when Arthur missed just one league game throughout a campaign that saw us win promotion to the top flight, just a point behind divisional champions Stoke City.

Rowe represented England just once – playing his part in a 4-1 win over France at his beloved White Hart Lane in December 1933. But he suffered a serious injury the following year and was never quite the same player again, eventually forced to retire in April 1939.

His thoughts immediately turned to coaching and, backed by the FA, he went to Hungary on a lecture tour where he was so impressive to a nation that was world class in footballing terms that he was asked to help prepare the national side for the 1940 Olympics. But the outbreak of World War II ended that dream.

Yet the war gave Arthur another opportunity as he took over as manager of the Army football team, subsequently taking charge at Chelmsford City in 1940 where he enjoyed great success and created such a reputation for himself that we instantly invited him back as boss when Joe Hulme departed at the end of the 1948/49 season.

It must have been a joyous homecoming for Rowe who instantly led us to promotion from the old Second Division in his first campaign. He brought much of what he had seen in Hungary to Tottenham with him as we embraced his 'push and run' philosophy of simple football played at speed.

This was a style of play that had not been seen in this country before and we followed our promotion by sweeping away all before us in Division One as we raced to our first top flight championship success.

We finished second in the final table to Manchester United the following season and then gradually our fortunes began to fade, and Rowe left us in July 1955.

But his influence remained for both club and country as two of his players from his stewardship – Bill Nicholson and Alf Ramsey – would utilise their own experiences of working with Arthur Rowe to bring glory to both Spurs and England respectively.

Meanwhile, we continue to salute Arthur Rowe as an all-time great, both as a player and manager, and as a man who will always be regarded as one of the most significant figures in the history of Tottenham Hotspur.

AWAY MATCH

Although Ralph Coates was born in County Durham, he was already on Burnley's books by the age of 14 having been spotted by their prolific north-east scout Jack Hixon who would later recommend a schoolboy Alan Shearer to Southampton.

Ralph had been serving an apprenticeship as a fitter at the local Eppleton Colliery and playing for their welfare side but after two years with Turf Moor's renowned youth set-up, he turned pro. That was in June 1963 and the winger was already an England international when he moved to Spurs in May 1971.

A busy energetic player who always put in a shift both defensively and in attack, Coates helped us win the UEFA Cup in 1972 and then went on as substitute to score the winner against Norwich in the following year's League Cup Final.

He later played in Australia before a spell with Orient and then moved into non-league. Ralph acted as a matchday host at White Hart Lane for many years and sadly died in December 2010 at the age of 64.

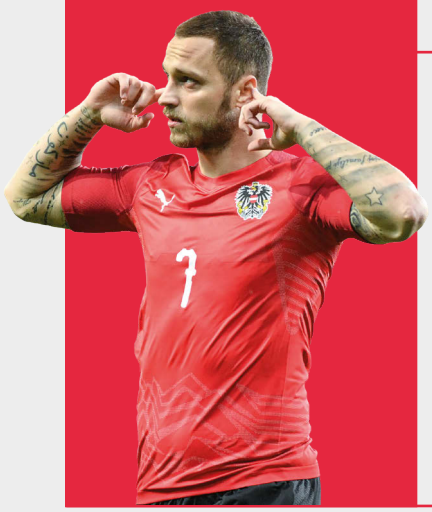
Ahead of UEFA Euro 2020, Andy Greeves offers the lowdown on various nations that will be appearing at the European Championships as it celebrates its 60th anniversary. Today he takes a look at Franco Foda's Austria

FORM GUIDE

Goals from David Alaba and Stefan Lainer saw Austria beat North Macedonia 2-1 in Vienna last month to seal a place at their third-ever European Championship finals.

'Das Team' won six and drew one of their 10 UEFA Euro 2020 qualifying matches to finish second in Group G and secure automatic qualification to the tournament along with group winners Poland. Results in qualifying included a 4-1 away win in North Macedonia back on 10 June and a 6-0 home triumph over Latvia in September.



KEY PLAYER

Marko Arnautovic was Austria's top goal scorer in qualification, with his six strikes in seven matches increasing his current overall tally to 26 goals in 84 appearances for his country.

Born in Vienna on 19 April, 1989, Arnautovic made his debut for Austria against the Faroe Islands on 11 October, 2008, with his first goals for his country coming as a brace in a 3-0 triumph over Azerbaijan two years later. The forward was included in Austria's squad for UEFA Euro 2016 – a tournament in which he started all three group matches prior to elimination.

SPURS CONNECTION

Current Austrian international Kevin Wimmer joined us from 1.FC Koln in May 2015 and made his competitive debut for us in our 3-1 home victory over Qarabag in the UEFA Europa League on 17 September that year. His Premier League debut meanwhile came as a substitute in our 3-1 triumph at Crystal Palace on 23 January, 2016.

Wimmer made a total of 31 appearances for us prior to a transfer to current employers Stoke City in August 2017. The defender, who has won eight caps for Austria to date, is presently on a season-long loan with Belgian side Royal Excel Mouscron having spent the previous campaign on loan at then-Bundesliga club Hannover 96.

Our first competitive meeting with an Austrian club came during our UEFA Cup-winning campaign of 1983/84. We beat Austria Vienna 2-0 in a fourth round, first leg tie at White Hart Lane on 7 March, 1984, thanks to strikes from Steve Archibald and Alan Brazil. We took a 15th minute lead in the second leg at the Franz Horr Stadion, as Brazil netted again. Herbert Prohaska's penalty levelled the score on the night shortly after half-time before Ossie Ardiles put us back in front with 10 minutes of the match remaining. Tibor Nyilasi's late strike secured a 2-2 draw for the home side but we progressed to a semi-final meeting with Hajduk Split having triumphed 4-2 on aggregate.

We kicked off our 1991/92 UEFA European Cup Winners' Cup campaign with a trip to the Praterstadion (now known as the Ernst-Happel-Stadion) in Vienna on 21 August, 1991 to take on SV Stockerau in the first leg of our preliminary round tie. Gordon Durie's strike was enough for us to secure a 1-0 victory on the night and we completed a 2-0 aggregate triumph as Gary Mabbutt got the only goal of the second leg at White Hart Lane two weeks later.

Ironically, we faced Hajduk in the next round again, this time with the away leg played in Linz, Austria, due to the civil unrest at the time in then-Yugoslavia. We lost 1-0 on 17 September, 1991, but won the return in N17 2-0 to progress.

EURO HISTORY

Having previously featured at seven FIFA World Cups, it wasn't until 2008 that Austria finally made their debut in the finals of a European Championships. As joint-hosts of the tournament, along with Switzerland, they lost 1-0 in their opening Group B match to Croatia in Vienna on 8 June, with our former midfielder Luka Modric's fourth-minute penalty proving decisive. A 1-1 draw with Poland on 12 June was followed with a 1-0 defeat to Germany four days, which saw Austria eliminated from the competition at the group stage.

Having failed to make it to UEFA Euro 2012, Austria made their second appearance at the finals of a European Championships four years later. Once again, they were unable to progress to the knockout phase. Defeats to Iceland and Hungary, coupled with a goalless draw with eventual tournament winners Portugal in Paris on 18 June, 2016, saw them finish bottom of Group F.

Continuing our new Q&A feature for this season – using the year of the Club's formation as inspiration – as we ask our players to choose 18 lifestyle questions from a selection of 82. Today, last weekend's goalscoring star Moussa Sissoko is in the hotseat…

1 How do you like your eggs?

Moussa: "Fried, with a runny yoke."

2 What keeps you going through the tough times?

Moussa: "I always take a step back and think that I have a great job, my family and friends, everything is perfect. I just look at the bigger picture."

3 What is your signature dish?

Moussa: "The easy thing for me would be pasta, maybe with salmon, a little cream. I make that one well."

4 Who has been the biggest influence on your career?

Moussa: "There are two players – Patrick Vieira and Mahamadou Diarra, who was at Lyon, Real Madrid and then Fulham. They played in the same position and were two idols for me. I wanted to be like them."

5 If you could go back in time, where would you go?

Moussa: "I would go back home to Paris as a young boy and be all together with my family."

6 What advice would you give to a young player?

Moussa: "To always be motivated and to always give 100 per cent on what you want to do in the future."

7 What one question would you like to ask any of your team-mates?

Moussa: "I would ask them all 'what would you be if you weren't a footballer?"

8 What reminds you of home?

Moussa: "Having good times with my family, spending time together, maybe celebrating a birthday, thinking about where I grew up in Paris. These are the best moments."

9 Do you have a guilty pleasure?

Moussa: "Everyone has something! For me, some sweets or candy. I like that. That's why when I go to the shop, I try not to buy any. If I do, I buy one packet to last me one or two weeks, but I'll eat one, then another, then another and at the end of the day the packet has gone!"

10 What advice would you give to your 16-year-old self?

Moussa: "I would say, I'm happy with what you have done for the moment, your dream is to become a footballer, so keep going down that path. You are in a good way. Keep believing, keep going, keep following your dream."

11 What was the last film you watched?

Moussa: "I've seen it a few times, Colombiana."

12 What did you want to do when you were growing up?

Moussa: "That's an easy one – to be a footballer."

13 What is your favourite photograph?

Moussa: "I have one sitting on the sofa with my kids, my daughter and my boy, we were just chilling when someone took that picture."

14 What is your favourite cheese?

Moussa: "It has to be President."

15 Would you prefer a beach or city break?

Moussa: "I prefer the beach. The last time I went to the Maldives. I like to change every time. Maybe next time, Bali."

16 Describe the way you dance?

Moussa: "Not like Serge, for sure. No-one dances like Serge. The guy is phenomenal."

17 What is the first thing you normally do in the morning?

Moussa: "I wake up and I go to see my daughter, Maliya."

18 When was the last time you cried?

Moussa: "You know what, no-one saw me, but it was after the Champions League Final."
